✂ PARISH NEWS ✂

THE CAPITAL CAMPAIGN FOR SAINT LUKE THE EVANGELIST PARISH

Our Parish will conclude its Capital Campaign at the end of October. Thanks to your generosity, we re-roofed the entire Plaistow campus, and accomplished smaller projects such as rebuilding the cellar access for the Food Pantry, cleaned and re-piped the septic system at the Parish Center/School, and installed a new chimney pipe in the Parish Center.

When the spring weather returns, we will accomplish other major projects: we have signed an agreement with Petra Paving Inc to seal, remediate and restripe the parking lots on the Newton and Plaistow campuses. We are currently negotiating with a paint contractor for the Newton Church and Parish house and will begin the bidding process for electrical upgrades in both churches.

Thank you for your generous response to our

The Gospel at Home

This Sunday's Gospel: Matthew 25:14-30

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus tells a pointed story about three servants. Their master entrusts them with varying amounts of money. Two of the servants double their money, but fear gets in the way of the third servant. All he can do is preserve what he has. The challenge for all of us is to recognize the gifts we have been given and our responsibility to care for those gifts. That means caring for the world we live in and caring for one another. It also means having the courage to be our best selves.

Exploring the Gospel Message

Seeds (Preschool): Help your child recognize his or her special talents. Encourage your child to use these gifts and share them with others. Spend some time having family members make pictures of themselves using one of their gifts—reading, playing sports, cooking, gardening, playing, or caring for another. Post the pictures as a reminder of this Sunday's Gospel.

Promise (Grades K–1): The Gospel calls both children and parents to use their God-given gifts. Point out to your child what you see as his or her best gifts. Be sure to mention ordinary gifts like a sense of humor, thoughtfulness, or good cheer. Ask your child to teach the family how to play the Hide It! game. It is a game he or she learned in class.

Good News (Grades 2–3): This week, your child learned the Parable of the Talents told through a short play. Spend some time talking about the three people who received money from their boss. Why did Joshua hide the money while the other two doubled the boss's money? Talk, too, about how each member of the family can put God's good gifts to work for others.

Venture (Grades 4–6): Take some time this week to talk about the gifts and talents that God has given your family. Talk, too, about how each of you can use these gifts. Ask your child to explain to the family why Jesus used parables to teach about God's kingdom. Let your child lead the family in sharing how the family can use its gifts and talents to make things better and to have a positive effect on people's lives.

Visions (Grades 7–9): In their discussion of the Sunday's Gospel, your teenager's class talked about the value of work and how people have many talents for work. Your young person learned that work is the enterprise that gives people purpose and self-worth and allows all to share in God's creative activity. Talk together about the work each member of the family has to do. Talk about the talents each of you brings to your work. Ask your son or daughter to share the class's discussion about the qualities that make ideal Catholic men and women. Sunday is also World Day of the Poor, so consider a discussion about reaching out to the poor.

Pray Together

When you complete your conversation about the week's lesson, make a litany prayer of all the many gifts and talents each member of your family possesses—such as honesty, gracefulness, intelligence, prayerfulness, athletic ability, kindness, and so forth. After each is mentioned, the whole family can say together: "Thanks be to God!"

The Society of St. Vincent DePaul, at St. Luke the Evangelist Parish, invites you to join our Prayer Shawl Ministry! Even if you are unable to attend meetings, your talents are more than welcome.

Shawls can be made with yarn, quilt fabric, or fleece. They are filled with prayer, care and love. They will be given to anyone in need of comfort or solace.

If you are interested in prayerful camaraderie or just want to contribute your talent, consider joining our committee.

If you know of someone that is in need of comfort and would like to receive a gift from our group, please call to make the request.

Bringing Home the Word +

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time (A)

November 15, 2020

What's Our ROI?

By Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

The Gospel today encourages good investments. Jesus heaps praise on the good servants who were faithful in small matters and rewarded with the joy of the master. The servant who gets called wicked and lazy is punished, not because he miscalculated a risk but because he feared his master and took no risk at all. He was frozen by the thought that he could lose everything, so he buries the talent and anxiously awaits the master's return. He is wicked, not for investing poorly, but for not investing at all.

Sunday Readings

Proverbs 31:10–13, 19–20, 30–31

Charm is deceptive and beauty fleeting; / the woman who fears the LORD is to be praised. / Acclaim her for the work of her hands.

1 Thessalonians 5:1–6

You yourselves know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief at night.

Matthew 25:14–30 or 25:14–15, 19–21

[Jesus said,] "It will be as when a man who was going on a journey called in his servants and entrusted his possessions to them."

God has given us all so many talents, and he does so for us to enjoy a grand return on investment (ROI). He wants us to use our talents, work them, develop them, and—at the end of our lives—enjoy showing him the way they have multiplied. Like a loving parent, he knows that much of our happiness is in developing and growing those talents with his grace. Those talents are a sign of his call and an invitation to step out in faith.

Parents, your job is to help your children develop their talents and dreams. A confident, enthusiastic, and risk-taking child is a sign of parents who know the balance of loving discipline, positive motivation, and a healthy distance. Children who feel secure in the love of their parents are willing to venture out and invest their talents, for they know someone will always be there to accompany them and catch them if they fall.

Our loving God is the first to know this and so invites us with this parable to trust, invest, and enjoy the returns. +

Parents, your job is to help your children develop their talents and dreams.

A Word from Pope Francis

From our own death and from our gift, the life and health of others, sick and suffering, may spring forth, helping to reinforce a culture of help, of giving, of hope, and of life. In the face of the threats against life...society needs these concrete gestures of solidarity and generous love.

—Address to Italian Association for the Donation of Organs, Tissues, and Cells, April 13, 2019

REFLECTION QUESTIONS

QUESTIONS REFLECTION

- What are the most important talents I have? Think of virtues, abilities, qualities, time.
- Which talent should I invest in more so I can enjoy the return God wants?

Auditing Racism

By Most Reverend Bruce Lewandowski, CSsR

The company that manages our electrical service called our parish one day. The agent said the company would do a free energy audit. The audit would produce a report detailing the ways we could save energy and lower our bill. The company also offered us energy-saving light bulbs, free.

We've been audited many times. Every three to five years diocesan auditors visit for two or three days to review the parish finances to make sure everything adds up. We've been through compliance audits for ethical ministry with children, youth, and vulnerable adults. We've had rain, runoff, and wastewater audits. One time, everyone who served at the parish did a time audit. We looked at our daily activities to better understand our priorities and effectiveness in ministry.

An audit is an examination of conscience or review of life. Time is set aside for reflection on a specific area of living. Deep analysis, reflection, and evaluation can bring new insight. In the end, we can accentuate the positives and hopefully address the negatives. A goal is attitudinal and/or behavioral change for the better.

Audits or examinations of conscience are regular parts of Catholic life. So why not a racism audit? Would you or your church community do a racism audit every few years? How do you think you'd do? Right away you might feel defensive and set up obstacles to such a review with statements like: "We've done this,"

"I'm not racist," "It's not a problem here," "That's politics," "The Church apologized for that long ago," and more.

I respectfully wave off all obstacle-creating excuses. For an audit to measure an organization's tolerance for and acceptance of diversity and inclusion, two areas of inquiry are required: individual, and organizational. The audit focuses on the individual or personal because an institution is the sum of its parts, and it also focuses on the organization, because structures and systems—like people—hold and transmit beliefs and values.

Employing the audit does not reveal if a person is or is not racist. You don't pass or fail an audit result. The goal is to measure inclusion—that is, the levels of inclusivity at work in a person or organization. Inclusion can be measured in a number of areas: values and attitudes, skills and abilities, occupation, and personal features or personality.

A level of bias, inclusivity, and/or exclusivity is at work in all of us whether we are aware of it or not. Bias is often unconscious or automatic. Our willingness to examine our own possible biases is an important step in understanding the roots of stereotypes and prejudice in our Church and in society.

How might the Church change if dioceses and parishes—like many corporations and businesses—hired inclusion officers to perform regular audits of parishes and ministries? Racism, prejudice, and bias in our country aren't going away. Maybe we should add one more audit to the annual list. +
